Beta Sigma Gamma sisters set up display table at Open House held Oct. 10.

Rushing Season Brings Freshmen Anxious Moments

Many prospective pledges are eyeing one of the seven sororities or eight fraternities on the Bryant Campus once again. Rushing officially began with the usual "Open House" in the college gym, Monday, October 10, between 2 and 4 p.m. The prospective pledges became familiar with the different Greek Letter organizations as a large and good turnout came and signed for the sorority or fraternity of his or her choice. Officers and members of the Greek Letter Societies greeted each prospective pledge wholeheartedly and answered all the puzzled questions in the minds of the students.

Each sorority and fraternity added displays to their tables decorated with banners, trophies, jackets, sweaters, and pins.

Marty Bernstein, president of the Greek Letter Council, predicts that the Greek Letter organization will have a large group from which to pick their future brothers and sisters, due to the increase in enrollment this year. He also emphasized that the next few weeks on campus will be very active and busy ones for both sorority and fraternity members.

First bids went out this morning, and many eager freshmen hurried down to the Bookstore to pick up their bids, which invited them to the smokers, beginning next Monday. The following rush parties are scheduled for the next two weeks:

Monday, October 17 — Sigma Lambda and Beta Sigma Chi
Tuesday, October 18 — Phi Upsilon and Chi Gamma Iota
Thursday, October 20 — Kappa Delta Kappa and Tau Epsilon
Monday, October 24 — Sigma Iota Chi and Phi Sigma Nu
Tuesday, October 25 — Beta Sigma Gamma and Sigma Lambda Pi
Thursday, October 27 — Sigma Iota Beta and Beta Iota Beta

Announcement of Admission Test For Graduate Study in Business

Princeton, New Jersey, October 7, 1955: The Admission Test for Graduate Study in Business, required for entrance by a number of graduate business schools or divisions throughout the country, will be offered on three dates during the coming year, according to Educational Testing Service, which prepares and administers the test. During 1955, many students took the test in partial satisfaction of admission requirements of graduate business schools which prescribed it. Among these institutions are the graduate business schools or divisions of the following universities:

Carnegie Institute of Technology
Columbia University
Harvard University
Massachusetts Institute of Technology
Northwestern University
Rutgers University
Seton Hall University
Syracuse University
University of Chicago
University of Michigan
University of Pennsylvania
Washington University (St. Louis)

A candidate must make separate application for admission to each business school of his choice and should inquire of each whether it wishes him to take the Admission Test for Graduate Study in Business and when. Since many business schools select their entering classes in the spring preceding their entrance, candidates for admission to the 1956 classes are advised to offer the February test, if possible.

The Admission Test for Graduate Study in Business is not designed to test specific knowledge in specialized academic subjects. Normal undergraduate training should provide sufficient general knowledge to answer the test questions. Sample questions and information regarding registration for and administration of the test are given in a Bulletin of Information.

Bucklew Gets Genie Fund Award

John R. Bucklew, Jr., is the fortunate recipient of the Genie Fund award of $600 to help him with his graduate study program at the Harvard Graduate School of Business Administration. The following letter was received from John prior to the award. How John feels about Harvard is shown by the following excerpt from a letter written by him to Mr. Drew-Bear:

"The Harvard Business School may be only some forty miles from Providence but it might just as well be 3000 miles away. I haven't been to bed before one o'clock in the morning since the first day of school. The first day they loaded our arms with case material, mimeographed and printed. Included were several books. Well—we assumed that this material would last us the first term. How mistaken we were. A day hasn't passed but what they have greeted us at the classroom door with something additional to look over for the next session. A real work house. And I thought Bryant was rough."

John has three children and worked his way through Bryant as a night-shift linotype operator at the Journal-Bulletin.

United Nations Day

By ROGER MARTINDALE

On October 24, 1955, people throughout the world will celebrate a birthday. It will mark the tenth year since the hopes, desires and determination of the peoples of the world for a life of peace and security took substance and shape in the creations of the United Nations. During these ten years the United Nations has weathered a series of crises and has emerged still as man's best hope of peace.

In a very real sense the future success or failure of the UN will affect every youth in America. It is difficult to imagine our world today without the United Nations. As the problems in world relationships become more intense, the importance of the UN becomes increasingly more apparent.

The United Nations and the specialized agencies are concerned fundamentally with people. They were developed to help people, to serve them, to aid in their advancement. They are not merely instruments of governments, although they serve to translate actions into human and personal terms.

In 1954 more than 6,000 communities throughout the United States celebrated UN Day. More than 600 communities organized official local UN Day committees. It is hoped that the observance this year will be further expanded and that more people will express their convictions and feelings about the necessity for strengthening the UN. Mayors in towns of more than 2,500 population will again be asked to proclaim UN Day and to appoint local UN Day committees.

Bryant College has its own UN with the following foreign students on its campus representing a total of 14 foreign countries:

Mary Carroll—Uruguay—Montevideo
Alfredo Samper S. Bogota, Colombia
Francisco Otamendi, Caracas, Venezuela
Susumu Yamazaki, Tokyo, Japan
Jennie Ann Tsoi, Sao Paulo, Brazil
Yeshayahu Tadmor, Tel-Aviv, Israel
Carolina Bares, Chitre, Republic of Panama
Daisy Jaekel, Bogota, Colombia
Eduardo Ocampo, Maracaibo, Venezuela
Louis Vital, Port au Prince, Haiti

The Evolution of Bermuda Shorts

By SKIP WILKINS

Not too many years ago, the one thing that man held sacred about his personal appearance was the fact that he could walk down the street with a sharp crease in his trousers and not have to worry about some woman strutting in the opposite direction sporting the same attire. But, alas, soon women were wearing a new sort of leg covering; what did they call them, slacks? Perhaps they weren't as sleek looking or as well tailored as men's trousers, but things were getting a little too close for comfort, thought the average male.

This situation went along for a few years with little or no change in women's slacks or men's trousers. Then came the period of the "cause of more heart failures to grandmothers since silk stockings"—shorts. This didn't seem to bother the masculine sex too greatly, for, after all, what prudent man would ever dare to be seen in public wearing a pair of "abbreviated trousers."

Man's disconcert, however, was short-lived, for as John Q. Public was waiting for the bus to take him to the office one morning, lo and behold! a woman approaching, not wearing slacks; not wearing shorts; what were these "cut-off trousers" that this woman was wearing? They were too short for slacks and too long for shorts. This was an encroachment on the rights of man! Why couldn't women stick to their frilly petticoats and well starched skirts.

THE ERA OF BERMUDA SHORTS HAD ARRIVED!

Evidence of this new fashion trend has made its entrance on the Bryant campus a resounding one. Have you noticed the young ladies on the campus walking around between the Cafeteria and the classrooms during class hours smartly outfitted in well-tailored skirts or neatly ironed dresses? Take a look at them again at three o'clock in the afternoon. What do you find? Neatly creased Bermuda Shorts, of course.

But, gentlemen, condone them we must, for in the not-too-distant future undoubtedly the successful businessman will not be distinguished by the cut of his waistcoat, but rather by the trim of his Bermuda Shorts!

Eldridge Hall co-eds display new fad! Bermudas are right in style during these Indian summer days.

Librarian Newest Addition TO BRYANT STAFF

Miss Dorothy M. Keith of Weymouth and Fall River, Massachusetts, began her training as librarian in 1946, when she was appointed by the Massachusetts Department of Education to serve on the regional library staff of the Fall River area.

Since her appointment as chief librarian at Bryant, Miss Keith has been visiting college libraries throughout this area in an effort to secure additional information relative to the establishment of a college library with the accent on efficiency.

The shelves of the library are filling up fast; new books and periodicals are arriving from the publishers, and from faculty contributions daily. Until the library is formally opened, Miss Keith urges the student body to utilize the solitude of the library as a study room throughout the day, or just drop in and browse around.

Some of the diversified topics currently on the shelves are:

Writing for Television by Eric Heath with introduction by Bob Hope.

Speaker's Encyclopedia of Stories, Quotations and Anecdotes by Chicago Municipal Court Judge Jacob C. Braude.

*How to Talk Your Way to Success by Harry Simmons.
A History of United States Foreign Policy by Julius W. Pratt.

*How to Organize and Operate a Small Business by Kelly-Lawyer.

*Recommended reading—Ed.

Does a young man need spring to turn his fancy? Not with co-eds sporting Bermudas strolling on the campus.

Society Sketches

PHI SIGMA NU

Phi Sigma Nu Fraternity was founded at Crane Junior College, Chicago, Illinois, on February 14, 1927. The charter members had been members of the "Bachelors' Club," an informal luncheon club founded in February, 1926. The close association in the Bachelors' Club led to the desire for a more lasting organization, which would embody the deep friendship among the members. The result was the formation of Alpha Chapter in 1927.

Early in 1929, the Fraternity was reincorporated by the State of Illinois, as the Phi Sigma Nu National Fraternity, empowered to charter chapters in colleges throughout the United States and 14 chapters were initiated from Rhode Island to Los Angeles, California.

Iota Chapter at Bryant College was formed in 1932 with Professor Eugene Vinal as advisor. The emerald green and yellow fraternity colors immediately became an on-campus way of life. Since 1938, the membership enrollment has increased until today the Alumni roll totals approximately 900 brothers, and one honorary alumnus—Senator Allen W. Barkley (former vice-president of the United States). Today's "On Campus" membership roll numbers 50 brothers.

sociation with Alpha Theta Chi fraternity, will sponsor the first Halloween Ball at the Elk's Auditorium in downtown Providence. See you there!

SIGMA IOTA CHI

Sigma Iota Chi was originally founded by Miss Greer Duncan in 1903, but it wasn't until 1925 that it was proclaimed the sister sorority of Phi Sigma Nu national fraternity.

SIC has been innovators in many events held under their sponsorship throughout 30 years on the Bryant Campus notably the Campus Fashion Show, which was such a success last year that it is being repeated on October 24.

The sorority colors are purple and gold, and the violet was chosen as the official flower by the local chapter.

The sisters are very proud of their many past achievements. They are especially proud of last year's Basketball Championship trophy, and having Mary Cava, here, selected the Bryant College 'Sno-Queen.

Next week: Tau Epsilon and Kappa Delta Kappa.

BEHAVIOR

As students of Bryant College, it is imperative that you realize the importance of proper behavior on and off campus. The things that are taught in class rooms are important in the field of learning, but one must not forget that social education is of the utmost importance also.

The manner in which a person conducts himself, both personally and as part of an organization, is a definite reflection on him and on his training. He may be a good scholar but he may also be a poor student. His devotion to his work in school may be evidenced by high grades, but his actions may tell the true story. The manner in which an individual conducts himself is a true reflection of his nature. The way he carries himself is an indication of confidence. The way he dresses is an indication of respect to his fellow man. His manners tell the world of his understanding of humility, and his selection of everyday language is a determining factor to his success as a social being.

It is your duty to society to remember all the things which go together to make a person proud of himself and of his school. Never forget that you are now a member of a group of individuals who are doing all they can to acquire an education, but never forget that you are also a member of society. Never lose sight of the duty you have to yourself to do the best job you can of being a good student on and off campus.

The Sports Whirl

By JACK HALL

The men's bowling league opened its season on October 7. Several teams showed promise of putting up a good fight for the championship. The two outstanding teams were Sigma Lambda Pi and Kappa Tau. Each rolled a three game total of 1,553.

Sigma Lambda Pi, led by Herb Fein with 372, swept four from Beta Sigma Chi. Sigma Lambda boasts a strong, well-rounded team. Although there are four newcomers, the team is centered around Barry Fellman, one of the top bowlers of the league last season. Herb Schaller's 301 was high for the losers.

Chi Gamma Iota also netted a sweep by winning four over the Newman Club. P. Bladasz led Chi Gam with a three game mark of 323. Tony Pires posted 306 for Newman Club.

Charlie Coolbrith's 381 led a strong Kappa Tau team to a 3-1 victory over a fighting BIB team. With Coolbrith getting a single string score of 143, KT got the high team single of the day—549. Arnie Kahan was high man for Beta Iota Beta with 306.

Tau Epsilon won 3-1 over Alpha Theta Chi. Both of these teams have lost strength since last season, but will be in there fighting for the top. Joe Ruggieri was highest for TE with 319. Jack Hall's 340 led the losers.

Phi Sigma Nu drew a bye for the first week, but will be in the thick of the competition in next week's matches.

Here are the standings and records for the first week:

Debating Club News

Jacques Lipitz, Debating Coach, would like very much to set up an inter-fraternity and inter-sorority debating tournament with a trophy to be awarded to the winner. If every organization will encourage one or more of its members to form a team, this should prove very worth while and entertaining as a campus activity.

Experience is not needed or expected. You will have the opportunity to learn all the skills needed. In line with the current emphasis in education, you will learn by doing. Inter-collegiate matches are being scheduled and intra-squad debates are already in progress.

In addition to the obvious use of debating to those of you who will go into sales, etc., there is a value in debating for all. Debating will teach you how to think on your feet, how to express your ideas coherently and logically and how to criticize other ideas constructively.

All Bryant students, men and women, are cordially invited to join the new club. Training is constantly in progress under the tutelage of an experienced coach. There are no dues or other obligations. The only prerequisite is a desire to debate. Meetings are held every Wednesday afternoon at 3 p.m. in room 1A, South Hall. Why not represent your fraternity or sorority in a debate and come to one of the club meetings?

LOWELL D. HANSON,
President, Debating Club.

GRADUATE TESTS

The tests will be administered on February 2, April 14, and August 18 in 1956. Applications and fees must be filed with the Admission Test for Graduate Study in Business, Educational Testing Service, 20 Nassau Street, Princeton, New Jersey, at least two weeks before the testing date desired in order to allow ETS time to complete the necessary testing arrangements.

The Bryant Sports Picture

By LARRY DELAHUNTY

With the excitement of the World Series in the background, all Brooklyn fans can come down to earth, Yankee fans can crawl out of their holes, pay their debts, and content themselves with the Bryant sports season, which is well under way.

TENNIS

Bryant's Fall tennis tournament began last week and is now in the second round. The results of the first round went as follows:

Bill Coleman defeated Don Oddy (6-4) (7-5)

Dick Matthews defeated Frank Rondo (6-4) (6-4)

Paul Demos defeated Jim Handy (6-0) (6-0)

Frank Otawendi defeated Dick Nolan (6-3) (6-2)

Grayson Brown defeated Phil Feraguto (0-6) (6-4) (6-1)

In the second round, Bill Coleman defeated Dick Matthews (6-4) (6-4) and advanced to the semi-finals. Paul Demos will play Frank Otawendi while Grayson Brown draws a bye. The winner of the Demos-Otawendi match will play Brown, and the winner of that match will play Coleman for the school championship.

The women's singles saw Ann Rihley defeat Gerry Kendter.

BASKETBALL

The intramural basketball league is scheduled to begin Monday, October 17. The competition figures to be very strong this year with a wealth of talent coming to Bryant.

Listed below are my predictions of the final standings:

DAY LEAGUE

1. Chi Gamma Iota—figure to repeat as champions with same club that won last year plus added strength.

2. Phi Sigma Nu—will be very strong. Have height, speed and finesse. Could edge by Chi Gamma.

3. Newman Club—lack all-around smoothness but with its height, speed, and the addition of a good ballhandler could go all the way.

4. Vets—have big men but lack co-ordination and conditioning needed to climb higher.

5. Sigma Lambda Pi—may surprise and could end up much higher but at the present time they cannot combine their height and ballhandlers.

6. Alpha Theta Chi—don't show too much promise as of yet but could develop into a contender with acquisition of a couple of good players.

NIGHT LEAGUE

1. Beta Sigma Chi—very strong with height, speed, and basketball. They figure to be all alone in their league.

2. Kappa Tau—a big improvement over last year. Will be strong in all departments but lack ability needed to go all the way.

3. Tau Epsilon—will floor a smooth-running team that will work as a unit. Lacking height and a bench.

4. Phi Sigma Nu—if they have a team in this league it will be strong but most of their power will be in the day league.

5. Independents—have not had an opportunity to watch them practice.

6. B. I. B.—Not enough strength to go far at present time but could improve.

GIRLS' LEAGUE

1. Sigma Iota Chi
2. Kappa Delta Kappa
3. Alpha Phi Kappa
4. Phi Upsilon
5. Sigma Iota Beta
6. Sigma Lambda Theta

Freshmen Girls Hear Health Talk

"Health is the finest kind of wealth" was the theme of the talk given by Dr. William Leet to the freshmen girls on Tuesday morning, October 4. Dr. Leet was introduced to the girls by Mrs. Love. His talk was given in connection with the Personality Development course offered here at Bryant. The girls received many fine and valued hints from Dr. Leet.

RUSHING SEASON

Monday, October 31—Alpha Phi Kappa and Kappa Tau

Tuesday, November 1—Alpha Theta Chi

Second bids will go to the office on Friday, November 18, 1955. Hell Week is scheduled for December 5, 6, and 7. Help Day is scheduled for December 7.

Girls' Bowling League Underway

The girls' bowling league started on Tuesday, October 4, with pins falling in every direction; of course, there were a few balls thrown down the gutter, much to the individual bowler's disgust. The league should prove to be very close and very interesting with several freshmen recruits sparking some of the teams. There is a new team added this year and that is the Newman Club.

In the far alleys, Newman Club and Beta Sigma Gamma started off. Beta Sigma Gamma easily took the first point from Newman Club then went on to lose the next one, win the third and total pinfall, which meant Beta Sigma Gamma took three out of the possible four points. There were no real high scores, but Sandra Rosenthal hit a nice 96 for Beta Sigma Gamma, and Norma Perry was high for the Newman Club with 81.

Alpha Phi Kappa and Kappa Delta Kappa were the most evenly matched teams this week. KDK won the first string by 30 pins, the second by 54 pins but lost the third by 11 pins. This match ended with KDK taking three points from APK. Top bowlers in this match were Joan St. Goddard (113) KDK, and Merle Henderson (85) APK.

Last, but not least, were Sigma Iota Chi and Sigma Iota Beta. Neither team had any freshmen bowling, but several of the sisters were new to the league. SIB was the only team during the day to succeed in taking all four points. The last string was the closest one with SIC losing by only 28 pins. Both teams were really marking up their scoresheets in the first string, but SIB was the victor by 30 pins. Barbara Stamp (SIC) and Carol Kahn (SIB) bowled in the anchor position and got high for that match. Barbara bowled 91-85-78 respectively for three strings and Carol hit 113-100 and 98.

Two Members of Sherwill's Family Flood Victims

Bernie Sherwill our former coach of athletics who graduated in August, 1955, suffered the loss of two members of his family in the devastating flood in August.

Two members of his family—his brother-in-law and uncle—lost their lives; and, in addition, the family home at 621 Riverside Street in Waterbury, Connecticut, was washed away with all their possessions.

Bernie succeeded in getting his mother and father safely to shore but when he attempted to save the other two men he was thrown into the Naugatuck River and carried downstream in the swift current for one mile before he safely reached shore.

His fraternity, Phi Sigma Nu, under the leadership of Manny Allen, president, collected $70.53 from the student body to be given to Bernie as a token of sympathy.
